The Way He Proved His Priendship

g nither colored cat named Ted, when more elevated

Suddenly the bells disappeared. A box of bells, such as ele sewn on children's worsted roins, was purchased. and as fast as a bell came off another was tied in its place on the collar, One day a big tiger cat which was Ted's constant chum was discovered caimly chewing the ribbon that at-tached the bells to Ted's collar. The mystery was solved, and after that we entertained our friends by tying a bell on his collar and putting him on the bed beside the tiger cat. The instant he discovered the bell the tiger began to chew it off.

What we would like to know is this: Did Ted ask him to remove the bell or did the tiver cat dislike the sound of the tinkle, tinkle?—Exchange.

time. Jackson Drug Co.

In the bitter cold of the winter of 1904-05 the mikado, not content with the fullest official reports, sent his grand master to look into the conditions at the front, to ascertain by visiting every camp and outpost how the soldiers were faring. When Count Hijikata returned with his harrowing tale of frightful suffering caused by the cold the emperor was broken hearted. Nothing more could be done, the Manchurian winter must drag its icy season through, but the emperor would not take his ease while his men were freezing, and the order to discontinue all heating of the palace till the war should be over showed that his sympathy was with them day by day .-World's Work.

To the Top of the Jungfrau.

The success of the Alpine railways, notably of those around Interlaken, encouraged Mr. Guyer-Zeller, an engineer of Zurich, to venture a railway to the top of Jungfrau. He obtained the concessions from the Swiss federal coun-i ensilage. The Sanford corn, being cil, and, being a man of wealth and enterprise, he set to work at once, notwithstanding apparently insur-mountable difficulties. Today the first half of the work is completed, and thousands of tourists visit the famous glaciers of the Eiger and the sea of ice on the other side of the Jungfrau range as an afternoon excursion, sipping their 5 o'clock tea in the subterranean station of the Eiger pyramid, 10,500 feet above the sea .- Century.

Makes the Liver Lively. Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup gives permanent relief in cases of habitual disease and diabetes and even in the constipation as it stimulates the liver and restores the natural action of the bowels without irritating these organs like pills or ordinary cathartics. Does not nauseate or gripe and is mild and pleasant to take. Remember the name ORINO and refuse substitutes.

The Name "Porcelain."

In the natural progress of nations and the development of trade porcelain was brought from China to Europe, and various legends were current as to its origin. Magic properties were attributed to it-as, for instance, that a porcelain cup would immediately burst if poison were poured into it. It was said to be composed of plaster, eggs, the shells of "marine locusts" and the like, and this suggests the origin of the word "porcelain." The Portuguese word "porcella" means "little pig," and a certain shell, being shaped like a hog's back, was named porcelana. This shell was used to some extent in the arts by being carved into cameos and personal ornaments. These became porcelana wares, and when the new production became known its likeness to the shellwork was recognized. The new material thus acquired the French name "porcelaine," or, in English, "por-

Asthma Sufferers Should Know This. Foley's Honey and Tar has cured many cases of asthma that were considered hopeless. Mrs. Adolph Buesing, 701 West Third St., Davenport Iowa, writes; "A severe cold contracted twelve years ago was neglected until it finally grew into asthma. The best medical skill available could no give me more than temporary relief Foley's Honey and Tar was recommended and one fifty cent bottle entirely cured me of asthma, which had been growing on me for twelve years. If I had taken it at the start I would have been saved many years of suffering." Jackson Drug Co.

Gardens For Children.

It is an exceptional child who would not value flowers and a garden of its own. Boys and girls alike are delighted with the very idea of possessing a bit of ground where they can "plant things" and watch them grow. The workers in city missions know that even the most unpromising specimens of slum childhood can be won by flowers, and among children of more favored classes the moral influence of flowers is a force, though it is not recognized or extended as it might be. People living in tillages or small cities usually have some ground around their
